Taking Care of Others

When Hannah was hurt it broke my heart to see her in so much pain. I wanted to make it better but I couldn't do very much. Especially because I fainted! I still feel guilty for not being there to take care of her.

Taking care of Emily and Rose was the first time I had to be responsible for someone else. I helped them with lunch, made sure they stayed out of trouble, made sure they were cleaned up at the end of the day before their mom got home. It felt good to be there for them. It was important to them but also to me.

Who I Really Am

I'm the kind of person who

Sure, I love basketball and I'm a rock star at math but there's more to me.
