Informational Writing/Unit 6 -- Grade Five
A Public Speaking Project

Characteristics Chart

![Characteristics of Informational Speeches]

- Introduction, things in order, conclusion
- Visuals (video, pictures, slides)
- Showing AND telling
- Very prepared
- Eye contact
- Hand gestures
- Fluent, voice changed, smiles
- Examples
- Transition words
- Expert words
- Sources
- Quote
- Humor
- Stayed on topic
- Introduce topic, quote, flowback
- Pausing for IMPORTANCE
- Repeating imp. ideas

RAN Chart - Class

![RAN Chart - Class]
Introduction student example:
Good Evening and welcome to the Kids History Channel. My name is _____________ and I will be introducing you to a topic that I hold very close, Women's Suffrage. First, let me ask you a question, Raise your hand if you like apples? Raise your hand if you like blueberries? The majority of you like blueberries. That could be our snack choice today, if you were able to vote for it. Imagine not being able to choose what you like, Imagine your vote not counting! This is how women felt before 1940.